what seemed to be a mosquito bite on the calf of my right log. Soon the sore grew larger and continued day troublesome. One physician advised poulticing, another physician told me to use a rubber handage, but the sore grew worse until there was not a spot of healthy skin as large as a ten-cont plece between my knee and ankle, A third physician prescribed a pasts, and then a specialist in scrotulous troubles treated me for a year. The sore seemed to be healing, but in a few five years. My leg was a dreadful sight. There were places so large and deep that an egg might have been put be amputated.

"One day a neighbor spoke of the value of Hood's Sarsaparilla for scrofula, and I thought I might as well take it. Before I finished the first bottle. I suffered less pain and could see the edges of the sore beginning to heat.

"So I continued taking Hood's Sarsaparille and hofers long the sore was
